Listed below are the Javelin and other printers sold by NBS with the official "End of Life" dates. Spare parts (subject to availability), technical support and repair services are available until the appropriate "End of Support Date". Consumables for these discontinued printers will be available until at least the "End of Support Date" but, in many cases, they will be available for a longer period if the consumables for later models are backwardly compatible to previously discontinued printers. Call NBS customer service if you require further details.
